

Rspb Weymouth Wetlands

Our RSPB Radipole Lake and Lodmoor Nature Reserve is always open. RSPB Radipole Lake is a 83-hectare nature reserve nestled in the centre of Weymouth, the reedbeds of Radipole Lake are an unlikely urban home to some stunning wildlife, including fabulous birds like bearded tits and kingfishers, and elusive creatures such as otters and water voles. Start your journey at the family-friendly Discovery Centre and have a go at pond dipping. Lodmoor Nature Reserve is a quiet haven for wildlife in the popular seaside town of Weymouth. The combination of a large reedbed, open water, saltmarsh, wet grassland and bushes attract a variety of different birds, including bearded tits and Cetti's warblers, gulls, ducks, kingfishers and winter waders.
